

Directions to Peabody Dance Studios Downtown
1 East Mount Vernon Place, Baltimore MD

There are 2 ways to enter Peabody, the main entrance at Mount Vernon Place and the garage entrance.

1. If you arrive via public transportation or park on the street (Note: There are several adjacent streets that have two-hour parking), you will come in through the main entrance on East Mount Vernon Place. Check in with the security guard to explain that you are there for a dance class. Depending on which studio your class is in, there will be a few different ways to go.

For Studios LH16, B22, B28, and B29, you will walk down the large staircase and through the arcade until you reach the glass doors at the far end. Go out the doors and make a left to walk through the courtyard. There will be a door into a glass enclosed breezeway. Enter the breezeway and make a left. The breezeway leads to another door through which you will enter the Austrian Hall building.

Studio LH16: Make a left down a small hallway. At the end make a right down a few steps and the studio entrance will be on your left.

Studios B22, B28, and B29: Go down the staircase in front of you. Through the door, make a left down a few steps. Go through the double doors leading to the dance department. Around the corner will be a long hallway in which the other Studios will be.

For Studio 308C: From the main entrance, enter into the elevator and take it to the third floor. Exit and make your way down the small hallway, turning left at the end into a larger hallway. Studio 308C will be about half way down on the right.

2. If you park in the Peabody parking garage (which will cost between $9.00 - $12.00), the entrance is on St. Paul Street. Take the ramp up to the second level. There will be two entrances into Peabody. Use the Main Entrance to the left if your class is in 308C. The other entrance is in the middle of the longest wall and has a sign for the Dance Studios, use this for LH16, B22, B28, and B29. At both doors use the intercom box to speak with Security. Explain that you are here for a dance class and they will buzz you in.

For Studio LH16: Once inside, head straight and through the door in front of you. Go up one level of stairs. Make a right down a small hallway. At the end make a right down a few steps and the studio entrance will be on your left.

For Studios B22, B28, and B29: Once inside, head straight and turn right down a couple of stairs. Go through the double doors leading to the dance department. Around the corner will be a long hallway in which the rest of the Studios will be located.

For Studio 308C: Once inside, head straight down the hallway. Take the stairs up to the Grand Arcade level. Turn right and walk straight through the arcade making your way to the elevator. Take it to the third floor. Exit and make your way down the small hallway, turning left at the end into a larger hallway. Studio 308C will be about half way down on the right.
